

	Norman J. Radow College of Humanities and Social Sciences
	Sociology and Criminology Justice – Undergraduate Gerontology, Minor

Upon completion of this degree from KSU, students will be able to:

1. Able to identify patterns of aging among different social groups and demographics.
2. Apply various theories of aging to explain problems affecting older adults.
3. Explain the three processes of aging- sociological, psychological, and physiological.